8. Ace Employment assigned me to the A.B.C.D. program for temporary employment (I have also submitted my resume to various business).
9. On January 24, 2006, a counselor from the Ryan House made a call to Ace telling them that I was working for my Federal Probation Officer and I am subject to violation if I take the position because the Program does not allow clients to work temporary positions (where they have allowed clients to just weeks ago) and that I cannot work for Ace. Being I would be representing Ace this caused Ace to be very concerned.
10. I addressed Staff at Ryan House, Probation, and this Honorable court clerk regarding these matters.
11. My being impeded in employment and business development has me two (2) months back in rent and literally under water with bills that I obligated myself to upon release.
12. I do understand the circumstance if I choose to not be clear surrounding my recovery and respectfully request that this court modify my sixty (60) day referral to (30) thirty to enable my to support my family and assist my children in their legal matters.
